PROPOSAL COVER SHEET

Every proposal must have a Proposal Cover Sheet. No other page may cover the proposal cover sheet. The subsequent information must be clearly stated in the following order:

- Name of applicant
- Title of project
- The words “[NAME OF GRANT]”
- Name of contact person
- Address of contact person
- Telephone, fax, and email address of contact person
- Project partners
- Amount requested
- Project abstract (100-word limit)
- Dated signature of Superintendent of Schools/Head of Grantee Agency

The Project Cover Sheet should be printed on plain white paper and contain neither graphics nor additional information.

The project statement should briefly describe the project’s outcome(s) and strategies (i.e., what the project will do and how it will do it). Do not exceed the 100-word limit. This statement will be used in press releases, board exhibits, etc.

PROJECT ABSTRACT

100-word limit

In the Project Abstract introduce the project to the reader. It should be factual, brief, and focused on program goals and activities. Do not assume the reader is familiar with the proposed project.

The Project Abstract should cover the core aspects of the proposed project, while addressing the following goals:

- Encourage low-income Maryland high school students to attend and complete college;
- Connect potential college and university students with nonprofit organizations that have a history of successful higher education outcomes for low-income high school students;
- Track Maryland high school students from high school to college; and
- Enhance and increase college and career awareness.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

The Table of Contents is an important aid for the reader. When writing the proposal and constructing the table of contents, please use the following conventions:

- The Proposal Cover Sheet is not numbered but is considered to be page “ i ” (lower case, Roman numeral one).
- The Project Abstract is page “ ii ” (lower case, Roman numeral two).
- Do not list the Table of Contents as one of the pages in the table of contents.
- Table of Contents page(s) is (are) numbered iii, iv, etc.
- The extent of need is the first page of the project narrative and is numbered “1”. Subsequent pages are numbered consecutively.
- The Budget is numbered as follows: “B-1, B-2, B-3”.
- Appendices are labeled “Appendix A, Appendix B, Appendix C “.

PROJECT NARRATIVE

Twenty (20)-page limit

90 points total

The Project Narrative provides an opportunity to convince readers that the project is sound and deserves to receive funding. The Project Narrative should encompass the entire life of the project. When writing the Project Narrative, keep the following suggestions in mind:

- Be succinct and clear. Readers need to understand quickly and easily the components of the project and how they work together to address the stated needs.
- Do not assume the reader is familiar with the project; readers represent diverse backgrounds. Avoid jargon, and define all acronyms.
- Proofread the Narrative once it is complete. Check for style inconsistencies, redundancies, factual omissions, and unexplained assumptions. A good strategy is to let someone not familiar with the project read and critique the proposal before submitting to MSDE.
- Be as detailed as possible. Use the entire page limit to explain the project. Use the Appendices to include information that may be important for the reader but will not fit within the Project Narrative. For clarity, it is important to reference in the body of the proposal any supplemental information included in the appendices.

Summary of Experience Providing College Access Services

15 of 90 points

Applicants are to provide a summary of experience providing college access programming and support to middle and high school students. This summary should explicitly detail experience in providing the services listed below:

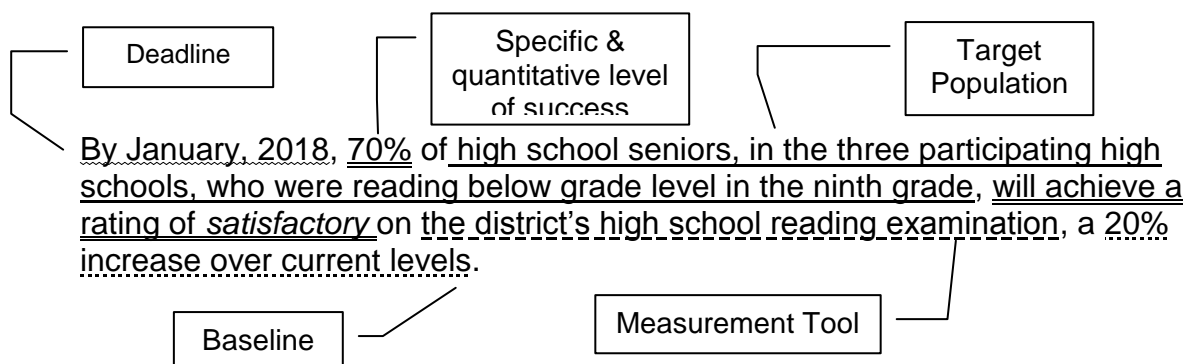

- A high school graduation plan;
- Summer work or internship opportunities;
- Financial aid literacy assistance;
- Career and interest assessments;
- Mentorship and one-on-one counseling;
- Visits to colleges campuses, and workplaces;
- An intensive summer bridge program for students entering an institution of higher education directly from high school; and
- A plan for students to matriculate and graduate from an institution of higher education.

Goals, objectives, and milestones are all outcomes. Outcomes themselves are statements that tell how the project's target population would improve. Every outcome should describe a change in a target population. In addition, they set standards of progress towards alleviating the problems identified in the needs assessment. Statements that describe strategies or management issues are not proper outcome statements.

Outcome statements:

- Identify the target population. Who is the specific population the outcome addresses?
- Are realistic. Outcomes must be attainable. It is unrealistic to expect that all students will achieve perfect attendance for all activities. Unrealistic outcomes set the project up for failure and are "red-flags" for reviewers.
- Are measurable. Outcomes must demonstrate clear achievement. A good outcome statement references easily-quantified indicators (e.g., absenteeism, grades, promotion rates).
- Have deadlines. All outcome statements specify by when they are to be achieved.
- Reference state, local, or school-defined baseline data or standards. To determine if the goal is both reasonable and ambitious, include local baseline data for comparison.

This is an example of an outcome statement containing all of the above elements:

A proposal should identify three kinds of outcomes: goals, objectives and milestones.

The Goal

State the overall goal of the project. The goal should address the main problem identified at the beginning of the needs assessment. While there should be at least one goal, it is possible to have multiple goals; however, the more goals established the more complex the project becomes.

Objectives

Objectives are the anticipated outcomes to be accomplished for each year of the project. Objectives must be directly related to a goal. Objectives may break the long-term goal into steps or address the factors contributing to the problem addressed by the goal.

It is imperative that objectives be established for every target population the project is designed to affect. For instance, if the project seeks to increase student achievement by training teachers, there must be objectives for both students and teachers.

Milestones

Ongoing evaluation is essential to the management of a project. Since goals and objectives are not evaluated until the end of the year, milestones must be established to measure progress during the year. Milestones should be evaluated during the year, either quarterly or semiannually.

Because milestones are intended to indicate progress towards an objective, each milestone must be related to an objective. Keep in mind that milestones are indicators of progress, and may not use the same measurement tool as the objective to which they are related. A project may take months before there is a significant impact on clients, or the rate of improvement may level off over time. Milestones should anticipate this and be gauged accordingly. Don't set overly-ambitious milestones.

Plan of Operation

10 of 90 points

In the Plan of Operation discuss the strategies and activities to be used to accomplish the outcomes.

Strategies

Strategies are broad approaches (methods, procedures, techniques) employed to accomplish outcomes. Begin this section with a justification as to why the strategies were chosen and how they will help to achieve the outcomes. The justification should cite research to support the strategies. It is essential that the project include strategies for each outcome, and outcomes for each strategy.

Upon identifying the strategies, discuss how they will be adapted to fit the particular project. Who are the target clients, and how will they use or be affected by the project services? How many clients from each client group will ultimately be serviced by the project, both directly and indirectly? Explain how these numbers were derived.

Activities

Activities are specific steps taken to accomplish the project objectives, and involve direct service to clients (students, teachers, parents). Examples include: parent nights, mentoring sessions, etc. They may take place on a single date (e.g., a field trip), or over a period of time (e.g., the use of an innovative curriculum).

Actions outlined in the management plan are not activities. While these actions are needed to facilitate direct service, they do not render direct service themselves. Examples include the purchasing of equipment, the hiring of staff, evaluation procedures, and steering committee meetings. Do not address the elements of the management plan in this section.

List the activities that the project will implement and relate each activity to a strategy. Activities should be grouped with respective strategies. Discuss how the activities relate to the respective strategies. Finally, identify which clients and how many will be serviced by each activity.

Evaluation & Dissemination Plan

20 of 90 points

Grantees are required to submit annual evaluation reports and quarterly progress reports that are consistent with the project's goal and objective(s). Keep in mind that the final evaluation will consider the entire project, beginning to end. It should not be viewed as what is done after the project's completion, but as an integral element in the project's planning, design, and implementation. An effective ongoing plan that evaluates milestones quarterly lends to making informed decisions about needed changes.

Evaluation & Dissemination Narrative

The topics listed below provide the basis for review of the evaluation plan that should be addressed with specificity.

- Evaluation Questions: What questions will the evaluation seek to answer, based on the project's goal and objectives, implementation plan, and anticipated consequences? Examine the relationship between the expected outcomes, efforts, and what is important to evaluate.
- Evaluation Strategy: What approach will be taken to find answers to the evaluation questions? What criteria will be used to assess lessons learned from the project? What populations will be included in the evaluation?
- Data: The type of data and method of data collection will depend upon the nature of the program, the questions, and the evaluation strategy. What measurement instruments will be used? How will the baseline be established? There should be a combination of quantitative and qualitative data identified. How will project staff collect data from the various sites and organizations involved in the project? When considering data collection techniques, ensure that the resources are sufficient to use the proposed data collection techniques.
- Evaluator(s): Specify the individuals or groups who will conduct the evaluation. What are their qualifications? What are the responsibilities of key personnel?
- Budgeting of resources and staffing for evaluation: The application's budget should reflect sufficient funds to carry out a thorough and useful evaluation.
- Dissemination: Details on how the evaluation results will be disseminated to major stakeholders and individuals interested in the project. Information, requirements and dissemination methods differ from stakeholder to stakeholder. Will information be posted on the Internet? Will presentations be made at important national conferences to present lessons from the project? How and when will you provide demonstrations of the project? Descriptions of the types of reports and other by products produced during the course of the project may be made available.

Where many projects fail is in their management. Submit a detailed and time-specific management plan with pre-assigned responsibilities so as to avoid the following common errors:

- Failure to submit required reports.
- Failure to regularly monitor performance of the project during implementation.
- Failure to start the project on time.
- Failure to keep adequate project documentation.
- Failure to assure continuity and quality of the project in light of personnel turnover.
- Changing without approval from MSDE the overall project from that described in the grant proposal.
- Submission of biased or incomplete project evaluation data.
- Having no approved project fiscal procedure in place.
- Disposal of project supplies, equipment, or other assets in unauthorized ways.
- Budget deviations due to unauthorized transfers from one budget category to another.
- Failure to manage inherent conflicts of policies, perspectives, and philosophies between project's host agency and the funder.
- Failure to form partnerships in which all members recognize and fulfill their clearly-defined roles, responsibilities, and contributions to the project.
- Failure to complete the project in a timely fashion.

Partners: Present a clear discussion of partners, their respective roles in the project, the benefits each expects to receive, and the specific contributions each will make to the project (financial, equipment, personnel, or other resources). It is essential that partner commitments be documented. Append letters of commitment from each, describing roles and quantifying contributions. Never assume that reviewers will automatically be familiar with a proposed partner, what that partner is capable of or willing to commit to the project, or why the partner is joining in on the project.

The project should have a steering committee to govern the project. Duties of the steering committee include establishing major program policies, reviewing quarterly evaluation reports, and making recommendations for programmatic change. Steering committee members should represent the major stakeholders in the project. (e.g., representatives from project partners, parents, principals, Board of Education). Steering committees that are too large are often non-productive. Project directors act as advisors to the committee. The duties, members and meeting dates of the committee should be identified in this section of the project proposal.

List the staff or personnel involved in the project's implementation. What are their qualifications? Append résumés of key personnel. How much of the Project Director's time is devoted to this project? Are sufficient staff hours devoted to the project to ensure proper implementation? What plans are in place to ensure the project will continue if there are problems with staff turnover?

Management Plan Worksheet

The Management Plan supports the implementation plan but does not contain direct service activities. Direct service activities belong in the Plan of Operation. Examples of management actions are hiring staff, ordering equipment, developing curricula, and holding steering committee meetings. None of these actions render direct service itself, but enables direct service activities to take place.

List on the Management Plan Worksheet, in chronological order, all major management actions necessary to implement the project during the first year of funding. (Worksheets for subsequent years will be included in the action plans for those years.) Assign an approximate date for each action. If the action is ongoing, indicate the range of dates over which it will be implemented. A well-considered management plan assigns responsibility for action to a management team member. Indicate on the worksheet who is responsible for accomplishing each action.

Requirements made by the funder, MSDE, should also be included in the management plan. These include the annual financial report, submission of progress reports to MSDE, and the final evaluation. The final report will serve as the final evaluation.

Alignment with Next Generation Scholars Program Goals

5 of 90 points

If a project is to be successful, it must be aligned with the Next Generation Scholars Program established under the HB 1403 (2016) and the goals, efforts, and plans of the local school system.

Narrative in this section should minimally answer the following questions:

- How does this project help meet the goals and objectives of the Next Generation Scholars Program?
- How does this project help meet the goals of the local school system?
- How does this project fit the unique needs of the local school system and its students?
- How does this project help meet State educational standards (e.g., MD College and Career Readiness Standards)?
- Does this project coordinate efforts with any other projects currently underway?
- Will resources be shared to increase efficiency and cost effectiveness to promote the sustainability of a college access program in the school/district?

Plans for Year Two

5 of 90 points

Briefly describe plans for continuing the project beyond the first year.

BUDGET NARRATIVE

No page limit

The budget narrative should clearly detail the proposed budget for the project year. It should demonstrate the extent to which the budget is reasonable, cost-effective, and integrates other sources of funding. All costs described in the project narrative should appear in the budget narrative and must have a corresponding entry in the itemized budget for that year.

Begin the budget with a narrative, justifying any line item expenses that are not obvious from the project narrative.

Explain how line item costs were estimated, if the rationale is not obvious. Show how the budget is cost effective. Show how the expenses were calculated for each line item. Reviewers will use this information to determine if the budget is reasonable and cost-effective. Group line items according to the following categories: Salaries & Wages, Fringe Benefits, Contract Services, Supplies & Materials, Other Charges, Equipment, and Transfers. Total each category. Each line must be detailed and specific. General expenses should be broken down into specific line items. For example, “meeting expenses” can be broken down into room rental, photocopying and refreshments. There is no page limit for the budget, so be as detailed as possible.

Budget Narrative Explanation with Directions

The budget narrative below is a guide for developing the grant budget for the proposal. You are required to submit a budget as a part of total grant proposal. The non-profit will receive 15% start-up payment once the grant is approved.

1. Salaries and Wages

Note on Personnel:

Estimates of personnel time should be justified in terms of the tasks to be performed and the instructional contact hours. Salaries are to be a function of regular appointment for the academic year or the summer session, if applicable. Salaries cannot be drawn at a higher pay rate than that which the individual normally receives.

a. Professional Personnel

List individually all key personnel and the requested salary amounts to be funded during the life of the project. For example, you want to hire a project director, Jill Smith [Project Director]—annual salary is $45,000, excluding fringe and benefits. Salary in the amount of $45,000 should be included in the proposal.

b. Other Personnel

List individually all support personnel by support category and the requested rate of pay. Support personnel must be clearly justified and may include clerical and graduate or undergraduate assistants.

c. Fringe benefits

These are calculated at the costs normally paid for the salaried members of the staff who will be involved in the project. For example, fringe benefits for Jill Smith will be calculated at $(18\% \times $45,000) = \mathbf{$8,100}$.

TOTAL SALARIES: $53,100

2. Contract Services

Use of program consultants must be justified and reasonable, and the fee should be a reflection of instructional time or time spent delivering other direct services (e.g., presenting at a parent workshop). Travel and per diem expenses for consultants should not exceed the institutional or State rate. Preparation time for consultants will not be paid by the grant. Properly documented contractual agreements for expenditures to consultants or outside agencies for fees, travel, and routine supplies must be filed per institutional policy; and contractual payments cannot exceed institutional salary levels for similar work. Documentation for consultant services performed should be filed showing:

- a. Consultant's name, dates, hours, and amount charged to grant;

- b. Names of grant participants to whom services were provided; and
- c. Results or subject matter of the consultation.

3. Materials and Supplies

Non-expendable supplies, including but not limited to books and materials and computer software necessary for the effective implementation of the funded activity, may be purchased only if they are necessary and appropriate to the project activities. Items purchased are considered property of the School or Next Generation Scholars of Maryland students and must remain at the school upon completion of grant activities.

4. Other (specify)

Travel

Enter travel costs if necessary for key personnel to conduct off-campus activities. Mileage allowances may not exceed the State's approved rate for mileage reimbursement at the time of travel. All travel funding must be specifically designated by place and position, approximate date, distance, and method of travel and be approved in the project budget.

5. Equipment

Purchasing non-instructional equipment is not permitted.

6. Transfers

Transfers must be preapproved by MSDE.

The sum of budget items should be the amount requested in the proposal.

Indirect Costs

Next Generation Scholars is an Aid to Education Grant. Indirect costs are not allowed.

Itemized Budget Form

Applicant should submit an itemized budget on an Excel spreadsheet with their proposal. The budget must be signed by the agency director or head.

APPENDICES

The following Appendices must be included but not apply to the page limit of the Project Narrative. Include other Appendices as you deem necessary.

Works Cited

Use a standard format such as MLA or Chicago Manual of Style. Be consistent.

Letters of Commitment

Letters of commitment are required from all project partners, school principals and local education agencies participating in the project. A good letter should contain the following:

- A statement acknowledging and supporting the goal and objectives of the project.
- The participant's expected gains from the project.
- The expertise, resources and financial contributions the participant is making towards the project. Financial contributions (in-kind and cash) should be quantified.
- A clear statement detailing the responsibilities of the partners.
- A clear statement that the partners intend to continue the partnership beyond the grant period.

Letters of commitment should be addressed to the superintendent or head of the grantee agency acting as the lead agency. All letters should be included with the proposal and not sent directly to MSDE. Letters sent directly to MSDE cannot be appended to the proposal.

Resumes of Key Personnel

Include a one-page resume for each person playing a key role in the project. Only information relevant to the project should be included in the résumé.

Signed Assurances

The following pages contain the assurances that must be signed and dated by the Superintendent of the school system or the head of the grantee agency. Please read all assurances carefully.
