SECTION I. HOW TO PREPARE YOUR EGATE APPLICATION

The EGATE application includes four required parts:
A. School Cover Sheet with school contact information
B. Excellence in Gifted and Talented Education (EGATE) School Gifted and Talented Program Summary Page
C. One-Page Descriptions of how the school's gifted and talented education program meets the EGATE Objectives (pp. 3 – 6) and COMAR 13A.04.07 (p. 7).
D. Documentation to demonstrate how the school's gifted and talented education program meets each of the four EGATE objectives and criteria.

NOTE: Resubmissions only: If you are resubmitting a revised 2018 application for 2019 review, you MUST resubmit your ENTIRE 2018 application. Include a copy of your school’s review feedback along with a description of how you have addressed each criterion that was evaluated as NOT MET.

Part A. School Cover Sheet
Use the School Cover Sheet template provided on p. 9 of this application packet. The School Cover Sheet must be completed and signed by the principal. The names of the required members of the school’s nomination committee must be included. NOTE: The person listed as the Contact will be the one contacted about the application status, ceremony plans, or any other questions about your application.

Part B. Summary of your School’s Gifted and Talented Education Program
This one-page school summary should provide a concise and coherent “snapshot” that describes how your school's gifted and talented program is representative of a Maryland Excellence in Gifted and Talented Education (EGATE) School. Summarize your school’s gifted and talented program strengths and accomplishments. Highlight accomplishments that are exemplary of the four objectives of an EGATE School. Be sure to note whether your school serves a population with high percentages of culturally and linguistically diverse students or students living in poverty and provide the supporting demographic data.

Part C. One-Page Descriptions of How the Program Meets the EGATE Objectives/Criteria
Descriptions must address all criteria for each objective. To be eligible for the Maryland EGATE Award, your program must demonstrate that it meets at least 18 of the 21 required criteria for the four Maryland EGATE Objectives. Table 1, on p. 3, summarizes the four EGATE objectives and 21 corresponding criteria. For a complete explanation of each objective and corresponding criteria as it is presented in The Criteria for Excellence: Gifted and Talented Education Program Guidelines, see pages 4-6.

Part D. Documentation of Required Criteria
Documentation presents tangible evidence of the Criteria for Excellence objectives and criteria. Choose carefully the best examples. Documents may include, but are not limited to: handbooks (excerpts); pamphlets, meeting sign-in sheets, agendas, notes and evaluations (SANE)*; lesson plans; curriculum maps; presentations; excerpts from school improvement plan; exemplary gifted and talented student work; photographs with captions; student enrollment and achievement data; newspaper articles/video featuring student awards or competitions; school staff vitae.
*Note: All agendas that are submitted for evidence MUST include clear outcome statements related to GT education. Sign-in sheets with participant names and roles are required to verify participation.

Documentation immediately follows the One-Page Description, and each artifact must be clearly labeled with the criterion it supports. An artifact may be used to support a maximum of two criteria; however, it must be copied and placed in the appropriate section. Create an overview table for each section, which summarizes the documentation for each criterion. See the Objective 1 example below:

The application must clearly meet at least 18 of the 21 criterion below (86%) to qualify for the EGATE designation. For a complete explanation of each objective and corresponding criteria in The Criteria for Excellence: Gifted and Talented Education Program Guidelines, see pages 4-6.

Objective 1.0 – Student Identification

A gifted and talented student identification process should ensure that all gifted and talented students are recognized so they can be appropriately served. It is important that the process identifies students performing at remarkably high levels of accomplishment as well as those who are showing the potential for performing at remarkably high levels when compared with other students of a similar age, experience, or environment. Information about a student’s specific abilities and program needs obtained through the identification process should serve as a basis for planning the student’s instructional program. In this way, the identification process is an integral part of the overall instructional program and should enhance the responsiveness of the school to the needs of all students.

Your application must demonstrate that the gifted and talented program meets the following criteria for Objective 1:

- 1.1. The gifted and talented education program identification procedures and criteria are clearly stated and consistently implemented throughout the school and reported to all stakeholders.
- 1.2. A school-based committee consisting of teachers, the principal or assistant principal, and other professional staff members collect and analyze data, maintain appropriate records, and make professional decisions about appropriate gifted and talented programs and services for students.
- 1.3. The identification process uses multiple indicators of giftedness with information obtained through a balance of valid and reliable qualitative and quantitative assessment methods from a variety of sources.
- 1.4. The progress of students receiving gifted and talented education programs and services is assessed annually and services are reviewed for appropriateness.
- 1.5. Implementation of the identification process includes training for school staff in characteristics of gifted and talented students including underserved populations, the identification procedures and criteria, and the instruments and techniques used to identify gifted and talented students.
- 1.6. Gifted and talented student identification and participation data are collected and disaggregated by subgroup in order to assess the extent to which there is equitable representation.

Objective 2.0 Curriculum and Instruction

Curriculum and instruction must challenge the advanced academic needs of gifted and talented students. The regular instructional program must be differentiated to meet the unique learning styles, learning rates, interests, abilities, and needs of gifted and talented students. While some aspects of the regular curriculum can be adapted, others will need to be added, which may be unique to the gifted and talented students. Appropriate programs and services for gifted and talented students reflect the differentiation of content (what is taught and when it is taught - sequence and pacing), instructional strategies (how content is taught), products (opportunities to demonstrate and apply learning) and the learning environment (the context in which learning occurs).

Your application must demonstrate that the gifted and talented program meets the following criteria for Objective 2:

- 2.1. A pre-assessment is made to determine what students already know, and provisions are made for rapid, efficient learning of concepts and skills not yet acquired.
- 2.2. Extended learning experiences are provided for more in-depth examination of topics present in the regular curriculum and the examination of topics related to, but not included in, the regular curriculum.
- 2.3. A variety of acceleration opportunities are available, including early entrance to school, subject acceleration, grade acceleration, and dual enrollment in college.
- 2.4. Instructional strategies for gifted and talented students are selected to promote an earlier development of the individual student as an independent learner. These include involving the student in:
  - Methodology for primary and secondary research;
  - Problem solving;
  - The use of predetermined evaluation criteria by student and teacher; and
  - The creation of original products that demonstrate and apply understanding at an advanced level.
- 2.5. A variety of instructional groupings based upon individual program components and their objectives, number and needs of gifted and talented students, and available resources are used to facilitate differentiated instruction. Appropriate groupings may include:
  - Homogeneous grouping of identified gifted and talented students for a specific content area;
  - Flexible homogeneous grouping based on pre-assessment;
  - Homogeneous cluster grouping within heterogeneous classes;
Cross-grade level grouping; and
Independent study.

2.6. Resources beyond the school setting are used to provide appropriate educational experiences for gifted and talented students. These educational experiences may include collaboration with:
- Community agencies;
- Cultural institutions;
- Businesses;
- Colleges and universities; and
- Experts in various fields.

Objective 3.0 Professionally Qualified Teachers and Professional Development

Rapidly increasing knowledge about the developmental patterns and learning styles of gifted and talented students and about appropriate programs and services necessitate ongoing, high quality professional development as a component of a successful program.

Your application must demonstrate that the gifted and talented program meets the following criteria for Objective 3:

3.1. Criteria for the selection of teachers are based on a set of competencies and characteristics supported by research as being important to effective teaching of gifted and talented students. Included in this set are:
- An awareness of the cognitive, social and emotional needs of gifted and talented students and a desire to teach them;
- Expertise in content and instructional methods;
- Expertise in the use of technology to support instruction;
- Ability to impart intellectual curiosity and enthusiasm for learning to students;
- High level of energy, enthusiasm, confidence, and resourcefulness;
- Ability to organize and manage instruction to provide for a balance of structure and flexibility;
- Openness to innovation and acceptance of divergent, creative thinking;
- Security in dealing with intellectual precocity;
- Ability to facilitate students’ independence and development of personal responsibility for their own learning;
- Willingness to pursue training for needed professional understanding and competencies; and
- Expertise in the collection, management, and analysis of student assessment data.

3.2. All school staff involved in the education of gifted and talented students engage in professional development according to specific roles. This includes teachers of gifted and talented students, other teachers, school administrators, student services personnel, content specialists, and other staff.

3.3. Professional development in gifted and talented education includes a background of general knowledge about the characteristics of giftedness and implications for curriculum, instruction, and assessment. Specific content includes:
- Characteristics and identification of gifted and talented students;
- Psychology and developmental needs;
- Need for and concept of differentiated services;
- Development of appropriate curriculum;
- Differentiated teaching strategies and assessments for gifted and talented students;
- Strategies for identifying and serving student groups historically underrepresented in gifted and talented education, including students who live in poverty, those who are culturally or linguistically diverse, and students with disabilities;
- Administrative alternatives and program options to support acceleration and enrichment; and
- Program implementation, evaluation, and revision.

3.4. Teachers working directly with gifted and talented students engage in intensive and ongoing professional development in the educational implications of giftedness and appropriate teaching/learning strategies for gifted and talented students.

3.5. School-level administrators and staff responsible for the management and administration of gifted and talented programs and services engage in professional development that prepares them to develop goals, objectives, and strategies regarding the performance of gifted and talented students, effective program alternatives and options, and a system for ongoing program evaluation.
Objective 4.0 Program Management and Evaluation

A program management structure exists, which clearly delineates the roles and responsibilities for gifted and talented programs and services at the school level to ensure the development and maintenance of program excellence. A systematic plan for ongoing evaluation is part of program planning and implementation and should assess processes and products of each component of the gifted and talented program. The local school’s gifted and talented program evaluation process is based on data and provides accurate, timely, and relevant information to decision makers and stakeholders for program improvement.

Your application must demonstrate that the gifted and talented program meets the following criteria for Objective 4:

- 4.1. Building-level administrators support the gifted and talented education program implementation within the school system's guidelines. They are responsible for:
  - Setting goals and objectives for gifted and talented students in the school improvement plan;
  - Coordinating services for gifted and talented students in the school;
  - Developing staff expertise in gifted and talented education;
  - Allocating resources to the gifted and talented program; and
  - Providing effective gifted and talented education program communication with staff, students, parents and the community.

- 4.2. A systematic plan for ongoing evaluation for the gifted and talented program is part of program planning and implementation and should assess processes and products of each component of the gifted and talented program. These include:
  - Identification, participation, and retention;
  - Instructional program;
  - Professional development;
  - Teacher qualifications;
  - Program management;
  - Community outreach; and
  - The evaluation process.

- 4.3. The evaluation process focuses on whether the goals, objectives, and strategies for gifted and talented students have been reached. The quantity, quality, and appropriateness of the programs and services provided for gifted and talented students are assessed and the data are disaggregated and made public.

- 4.4. Attention is given to the assessment of gifted and talented student progress using multiple indicators that measure mastery of content, demonstration of higher level thinking skills, achievement in the specific program area(s), and affective growth.
